Final Rehearsals Now in Progress

DIANE HONODEL, JOHN IKES, ALEX GRANT TO PLAY LEAD ROLES

"The Heiress," a play by Ruth and Augustus Goetz, will be presented by the Sacramento State College drama department Friday and Saturday evenings, October 27 and 28, in the junior college auditorium. The play will begin at 8:15 both evenings and the price of admission is 60 cents. Student-body card holders will be admitted free (except for tax) There will be no advance sale of tickets.

Diane Honodel will play the leading role of Catherine, the heiress. Miss Honodel has appeared in several junior college drama productions and played in the state college production of "John Loves Mary" last year. She also has appeared with the Sacramento Civic Repertory Theater.

John Ikes plays the role of Morris Townsend. Ikes is new to the state college stage, but has had a great deal of experience in other schools and drama groups. At Stanford University he took part in Penthouse Drama and appeared in Noel Coward productions from the 8:30 series. At San Jose State College Ikes played in "The Doctor In Spite of Himself." He was also a radio announcer in San Jose San Francisco, and locally at station KROY.

Alex Grant also well known to Sac-Staters, will play the part of Dr. Sloper. Others in the cast include: Betty Nisos as Lavinia Penniman, Margaret Whitehead as Elizabeth Almond, Wayne Shrope as Arthur Townsend, Pat Allen as Marian Almond, Frances Pendleton as Mrs. Montgomery and Pat Judge as Maria.

Charles V. Hume will direct the entire production and the sets are being constructed by members of the drama department under the direction of Paul Beckman.

Special Alumni Edition

SSC ALUMNI ASS'N FORMED; EXECUTIVE COUNCIL ELECTED

Sacramento State College Alumni Association was officially launched at a summer meeting in conjunction with the summer session picnic at Elk Grove Picnic Grounds. A constitution was ratified and officers were elected, to serve for two years.

Officers are as follows: David Morse, '49, president; Elizabeth Strong, '50, vice-president; Janet Bryant, '49, secretary; David Lindberg, '50, treasurer, and Warren McClaskey, '49, elected delegate.

Under the terms of the constitution, these officers constitute the executive council, with the executive secretary, John E. Samara as ex-officio member. The executive council appointed the following members to serve with them on the Board of Directors of the Associaton: Lois Briggs, '49; Jack Bertolucci, '50; Peter Schur, '49; and Donald McDonald, '49.

Dues (annual) were set at $3.50 per year and life memberships at $50. As a special inducement for the charter membership drive, the Board of Directors voted at their first meeting to reduce the life membership fee to $35 for all Charter members. Deadline was set for November 30, 1950 to become charter members.

All graduates of Sacramento State are eligible for membership, as well as graduate students who have completed 24 units at SSC. All Presidents of the College will automatically be honorary members. Plans are being made to grant the Governor honorary membership.

Privileges automatically included with membership include: special student rates for basketball games; special student rates for the Junior Prom and Senior Ball; monthly issues of the State College Hornet with emphasis on alumni news; and all members joining before November 30 this year will automatically be entitled to special rate of $35 for life membership at any time they choose.

It is planned that the Association will annually meet on occasion of the regular State College picnic each spring and have one winter meeting or social function .

Enrollment Figures

A total of 2103 students now attend Sacramento State College, a gain of 24 per cent in one year's time. Regular on-campus students who take six units or more increased from 841 last fall to 1,061 this semester. Students carrying less than six units expanded the 629 of last fall to 767 this year. Extension students registered number 275, compared to 221 last fall. The only decrease recorded was veteran enrollment, which dropped 17.5 per cent, from 618 to 510 this fall.

Alumni Notice

The Sacramento State College Placement office, located this year in Room 224 of the Administration Building, has been designated as the official headquarters of the Alumni Association.

It is requested that all graduates and former students of Sacramento State College keep that office notified as to their location, employment and personal addresses. Your cooperation will do much to foster the spirit of comradeship which is one of the primary aims of the Alumni Association.

School Just Begins; And Exams Already!

Students seeking teaching credentials spent a full day Saturday, September 23, taking examinations and being interviewed. Many faculty members were on hand to conduct the program.

According to Dr. James M. Bradfield, head of the Committee on Credential Candidates, 190 to 200 students were tested and interviewed in the Ninth and Eleventh Avenue Annexes.

The purposes of these examinations were to give an informational basis for the selection of credential candidates and to furnish a basis for their guidance.

Tests given were: the American Council on Education Psychological Examination, the Kuder Preference Record, which is a vocational interest test, the Cooperative Contemporary Affairs Test, the Cooperative English Test, and the Minnesota Multi-phasic Personality Inventory.

The committee will act in the near future on applicants for candidacy on the basis of these tests and interviews and on individual grade point averages and physical examinations.

Those who did not complete the tests or did not take any may do so on February 10, 1951. Students are reminded that candidacy for a credential is prerequisite to assignment to Supervised Teaching.

PLAY IN REHEARSAL

SSC BUZZ CLUB PLANS RALLIES

Buzz Club, SSC's rally committee planned the rallies for the year at a meeting at 12 noon in Room 219 last Monday, October 16. The next rally will be in the auditorium between 12:50 and 1:25 p.m. on October 31.

Buzz Club President George Woodhouse said that anyone who wishes to volunteer talent for a rally is requested to attend the next Buzz Club meeting on Monday, October 23, at 12 noon in Room 219. Anyone who is unable to attend the meeting but is interested in taking part in a rally may see Barbara Bauman or Woodhouse.

The schedule of rallies for the semester is as follows:

Oct. 31 — Rally by Ski Club
Nov. 14 — Rally by WSSF
Dec. 5 — Rally for St. Mary's game
Jan. 9 — Rally for COP game

XI THETA CHI NOW ON STATE CAMPUS

Xi Theta Chi is a new fraternity to SSC. It is a local organization some of whose objectives are: to get fellows acquainted, to help them scholastically, and to help them to get interested in and take part in student body affairs.

George Woodhouse is president of the group which met Wednesday, October 18, at 8 p.m. in Room 219 to plan coming events and to discuss a scholarship award for their member with the highest grades.

P.E. Graduates Now Teaching

Physical education graduates of Sacramento State now coaching and teaching in school are: Wille Wilkins, Rio Vista high school head football coach and physical education teacher; Elmer Denis, Folsom high assistant football coach and physical education teacher; Jugo Covich, assistant football coach and social science teacher at Placer high; Lane Ernst, Yuba City high, assistant football coach and teacher of history and English; Pete Peletta, coach of all sports and gym teacher in Lincoln High; John Patterson, physical education and 7th grade, Orangeville Elementary; Ed Perry, physical education and 6th grade, Walnut Grove Elementary; Mario Perucci, West Acre Elementary; Archie Yelli, West Sacramento Elementary; Ted Latona, Bright Elementary.

Sweetman Elected Junior Class Prexy

Ed Sweetman was elected president of the junior class in a runoff election at noon on October 6. This election was held because of a tie between Sweetman and Bob Rosberg for the office.

The class treasurer, Norman Wilson, will have to be replaced, as he will be leaving for the service.

Other class officers are: Marian Schliecher, vice-president, and Joan Mathews, secretary.

DISCUSSION GROUP FORMS NEW CLUB

International Discussion Group is a club now being organized on the campus to discuss international subjects. Edson Caldwell is the sponsor of the group which held a meeting last Wednesday, October 18. The organization will consist of persons of various racial extractions and will be limited to men. Each member must take an active part or withdraw from the group.

Interested persons see Harry Fong.

DRAMATIC CLUB WORKS ON SETS

The Dramatic Art Club will meet Sunday, October 22, to help Charles V. Hume, assistant professor of speech, to make sets for "The Heiress." The play will be presented by the Dramatic Art Department on October 27 and 28 at 8 p.m. in the Junior College Auditorium.

The club held a meeting on October 5 in the home of President Diane Honodel, 2131 Bidwell Way, at 7:30 p.m. Members are at present deciding on a permanent name for their group.

Other officers this fall are: vice-president, Bob Wyman; secretary, Mrs. Barbara Aton; and treasurer, Frances Pendleton.

Juniors Plan Prom

Ed Sweetman, president of the Junior Class, announced that juniors who are interested in working on the Junior Prom should come to the Student Activities meeting on October 24, Tuesday, in Room 211. This dance will be held in the first part of December and plans must be formulated as soon as possible.

FACULTY WIVES HONORED AT TEA

Mrs. Guy A. West and wives of new faculty members were honored at a tea last Tuesday, October 17. The event, given by the SSC Faculty Wives' Club, was held in the Fireside Room from 2 to 4 p.m.

Letter From Alumni President

October 20, 1950

A handful of people have done a lot of spade-work to help us get the Sacramento State College Alumni Association started. We've gotten off to a pretty good beginning. How much further we are going to go depends on you former students of the college. You will gain from the Association only in proportion to what you can put into it.

Our present paid-up memberships comprise approximately 10 per cent of the eligible members. We are asking for your cooperation to help build a strong Association which will pay off in many ways . . . both to you as individuals and to the College as a whole.

Many of you are difficult to located already. Avail yourselves of the opportunities offered by the Alumni Association to maintain and renew college friendships. Our first annual banquet is scheduled for November 21, 1950 at La Rosa Restaurant. Plan to be there — many of your friends will!

Banquet invitations will be mailed out individually within the next two weeks. If you do not receive one, please let us know.

Sincerely,
DAVE MORSE
President

P. S. Dues may be paid at any time to Mr. David Lindberg, Treasurer of the Association, or to John E. Samara, Executive Secretary, at the College Placement Office.

Have You Had Your Physical Exam?

Several students have not as yet completed their health examinations. Mrs. Helen H. Gilkey, the college nurse, states that these examinations must be completed immediately.

Health Office hours are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. William C. Hickey, M. D., the college physician, will be in daily from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, but he is always on call.

"The Pioneer Spirit"

By R. L. Birchfield

It is not often in educational circles for the faculty and the students of an institution to truly feel the "Pioneer Spirit."

Sacramento State reveals this enviable atmosphere! Without permanent buildings, without an immediate campus, and without the hallowed traditions, the undergraduate may cast a skeptical eye upon the wisdom of attending the college purely from the facilities standpoint.

But, if he looked a little closer, he would also discern a liberal educational viewpoint through the excellence of the handpicked faculty, plus the guidance and administration of the curriculum by outstanding administrators. Verily, an educational bonanza.

The primary aim of Sacramento State, the production of first class educators in their various fields, will not be sidetracked by moss bound traditions applicable only to the needs of a bygone era.

California can well be proud of the scholastic record of her various state colleges established prior to Sacramento State. It is the feeling of the students and faculty of Hornetland, that our institution is well on the way to the top echelon of similar recognition.

But, lest we feel that the handicaps we now operate under are considerable, give thought to the present struggle of the students of the newly founded Indonesian University. The infant Republic of Indonesia is trying to establish Democratic Education under the most trying of financial and administrative difficiulties.

The present students are truly the forefathers of Indo-chinese educational rebirth in the Democratic pattern. If their university dies through lack of funds, books, or encouragement from Western educational compatriots, we lose in our fight for educational enlightenment on a worldwide plane.

One of the first and possibly finest traditions we could establish here at State, would be to establish an annual book collecting drive at the end of each semester. Books thus collected would be shipped to Indo-China.

The inauguration of such a tradition would be in the finest sense of the "Pioneer Spirit."

From The President: Gerry Lanning

KEEP YOUR FOOT ON THE GAS AND WE'LL ALL GO PLACES!

At this stage of the game, things seem to be functioning rather smoothly. True, we are not breaking any records, but the school year is slowly gaining momentum. To go anywhere in the car you have to keep your foot on the gas pedal . . . you can't let up!

It's the same thing with an organization. If you want to accomplish anything, you have to keep the power on. So let's keep the old buggy moving and plan to attend your student activities and give them your full support. Incidentally I would like to bring to your attention the fact that your executive council meets every Thursday noon at 12:30 in room 119 and that any student may attend to see how his government operates. Also any clubs having problems may bring them to the attention of this group if help is needed. For the following semester, we have employed Mr. Anthony and an army chaplain to listen to your woes, so drop in!

C.S.T.A. MEETS, VIEWS SLIDES

The SSC California Student Teachers Association met Wednesday, October 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Union to view slides of some famous educators in the world. George I. Linn, president of the northern section of the California Teachers Association, showed the slides.

Harry Leafe, president of CSTA, stated that anyone who is enrolled in one education course is eligible to become a member of the group which is the junior organization of the CTA. Dues, payable to Mrs. Mabel Schoefer in Room 110, are $2.50 per calendar year and include a subscription to the CTA journal. Dues paid now will not expire until January, 1952.

CSTA is planning to attend two out of town meetings soon. The first will be the CTA northern section's annual convention to be held in Marysville on Saturday, October 28. The other will be a convention at the College of the Pacific on November 4. Persons interested may contact Dr. Charles F. Howard, associate professor of education, in 11A-A2 or any CSTA officers.

Officers are: Harry Leafe, president; Duaine Schrumpf, vice president; Wendell Tarr, treasurer; Olga Musso, recording secretary; and Joan Marks, corresponding secretary.

Civic Theater To Present Plays

The Modern Play Series of the Sacramento Civic Repertory Theater will open October 25th for four performances of the current Broadway hit, Born Yesterday. Written by Garson Kanin, this fast moving comedy deals with the triangle which develops when a tough wartime profiteer, moving in on the big time in Washington, hires a good looking writer to tutor his girl friend. Richard Burdick is the director and Robert O'Brien is the production assistant.

The play is the first in the Modern Play Series of the repertory theater. It will be followed by Noah, a fantasy on the flood by Andre Obey, staged arena style by Lillian Allan; Dangerous Corner, a suspense play by J. B. Priestley, directed by Russell Azzara; Summer And Smoke, a drama by Tennessee Williams, directed by Burdick and Oscar Wilde's comedy, The Importance of Being Earnest, staged by Miss Allan.

Each play will be presented Wednesday through Saturday in the Eaglet Theater, 1419 H Street. Season tickets at two prices ($6.00 and $4.80) are available for all nights, and a special student rate of $2.50 for the five plays has been set up. Single admissions for Born Yesterday also are on sale at the Civic Theater box office in Sherman Clay & Company, 1312 K Street, Sacramento.

MOVIE PREVIEWS AND REVIEWS

By George Otterson

Mister 880, now playing at the Crest Theater, is one of those rare movie treats that come along all too seldom. It is filled with some very likeable characters and one particularly lovable old man.

Mister 880 is the true story of an old counterfeiter that prints only enough one dollar bills to live on, thereby saving the government quite a considerable sum of money by not moving into an aged veterans' home. It took the Secret Service over ten years to catch the loveable old crook, as he never gave any one person more than one bill.

Burt Lancaster and Dorothy McGuire are cast as the Secret Service agent and the old man's best friend, respectively. Both Lancaster and Miss McGuire turn in completely refreshing performances. The picture is given timeliness by the clever use of the United Nations meetings as a backdrop for quite a bit of the footage.

The star of the picture is without a doubt Edmund Gwenn, who turns in a performance that rivals his academy award work as Santa Claus in "The Miracle on 34th Street." Gwenn makes the character of "Skipper" so sympathetic that from the first reel you are hoping the Johnson Office did not insist on proving that crime does not pay in this case. By sticking so closely to the actual facts of the case, the producers were able to show a climax that pleases everyone much more than any Hollywood scripters could have turned out.

For a perfect movie with a perfect cast and a perfect blend of humor and pathos, I heartily recommend Mister 880.

This week current screenfare seems to be trying and proving that "movies are better than ever" . . . at least this week they are. Opening Sunday for its west coast premeire, To Please A Lady, started its run at the Alhambra Theater. Clark Gable and Barbara Stanwyck are the stars of this high tension pix which holds interest from beginning to end with the thrills and chills of auto-racing and also some "high tension" love scenes between Gable and Stanwyck.

To Please A Lady is definitely the type of picture meant for players like Gable and Stanwyck; She as a smooth wise-cracking woman newspaper columnist and Gable as a wild reckless auto racer. And when these two clash . . . you can bet it means a story full of excitement, adventure, love and everything else needed to make To Please A Lady a quick action film and a "must see" for all movie fans.

SSC Observes United Nations Anniversary

The fifth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations will be marked by a program in the college auditorium on Tuesday, October 24. The meeting, which will begin at 12:30, will be highlighted by an address by Chancellor Tully Knoles of College of Pacific (Chancellor Knoles is the father of S.J.C. Vice-President Knoles). He will be introduced by U.N. chairman Fontaine Johnson. A student program will be featured.

A pageant will be held on Tuesday night in Memorial Auditorium at 8 p.m. SJC orchestra and State College students will participate in this main celebration of U.N. Day. Fourteen different countries will be represented at the affair. This year will be the first time Sacramento has taken part in the world-wide celebration in which sixty countries will be active.

Today a special flag raising ceremony will see the U.N. flag raised for the first time in Sacramento at 12 noon at the Memorial Auditorium. City officials and other dignitaries will attend. The Mather Air Force Band will play for the occasion. Church bells will ring at 11 a.m.

Dr. Dwight C. Baker of SSC is the Secretary of the U.N. Day Committee. Other State College Faculty members who will take active part in the celebration are Dr. Guy West, Dr. Mary Foley, and Dr. Hubert J. McCormick.

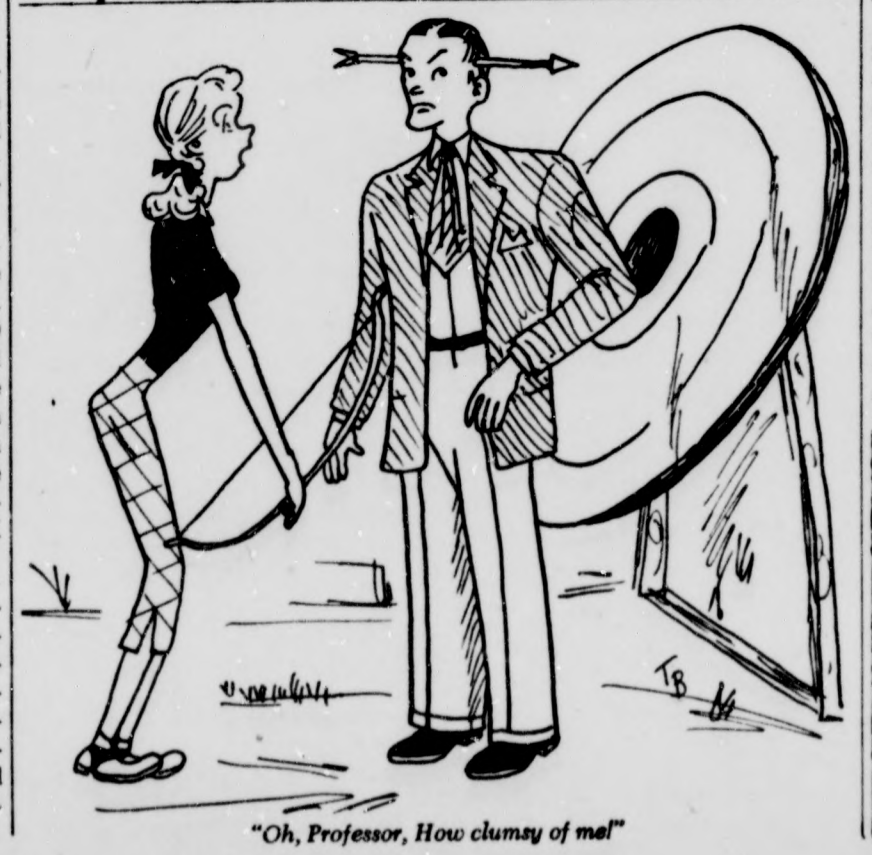

All celebrations marking the anniversary of the United Nations are open to the general public free of charge.

"Oh, Professor, How clumsy of me!"

The Council Speaks

By Ben Leafe

At the last meeting of the Student Council, it was passed that the Alumni Association would receive those privileges that had been granted to Student Body card holders, with the exception of any rate for the STATESMAN.

Speaking of the STATESMAN reminds me that there had been a meeting of the staff Sunday afternoon, October 8. The staff decided that it would use a centennial theme. A Roman statesman is to be its mascot.

Mr. Daniels of the business office who had been keeping the books for the student association, leaves soon for the navy. In his absence, Tony Bacula of the same office shall continue to keep the books.

Pictures are now being taken of the campus organizations. Of primary interest are the officers of these groups. These photographs are mainly for use by the STATESMAN; however, whenever possible they will be sent to the local papers for publicity.

Within the next few weeks the faculty will be receiving cards to the effect that they are to arrange an appointment with Sirlin Studio. These pictures will not cost the members of the faculty. Clarice Kerr, faculty editor, only urges that the teachers arrange their appointments as soon as possible.

I haven't received any official report as to the success of the Turn About Dance; however, it should have been a great success. It has been my observation in the past that the couples really enjoy themselves for the gals are out to get their money's worth, while the fellows are so stunned by it all that they have no choice but to oblige.

Marriages and engagements seem to be on the decline lately. Perhaps it is due to the typical college attitude of the lads of today who wish to be affinanced rather than affianced.

While up (or down if you prefer) at Cal over the week-end, the writer had the opportunity to visit several old friends at Bowles Hall. It seems that almost every room is equipped with a pair of field glasses which are focused on the charmers as they glide by about one-half mile away. Perhaps the reason for this is that the boys are natural dreamers and dreams always seem better when viewed at a distance.

This then, is the last of the news from the council.

B.A.S.S. BARN DANCE, HAY-RIDE SET FOR SUNDAY, OCTOBER 29

Biological Society will hold its first social affair of the semester on Sunday, October 29, 1950, at C-Bar-C Ranch. All students are invited to this combination hayride and barn dance which will begin at 7:00 p.m. and will include refreshments. The affair is stag. Tickets may be obtained from Tom Wittsche and Mae Hopkins. Anyone wishing information may contact any of the biology students who may be found in the science annex.

ALUMNI NEWS

By John Samara

Have you been wondering what has happened to your old friend, Jane or John? We hope that thru this column you can learn the whereabouts and status of the old Sac-Staters. One of the most important things that has happened to many of the graduates is that of joining the ranks of matrimony.

TIED THE KNOT

Marge Shearer, '49, is now Mrs. Earl Moore and is back in Chicago while her husband finishes his Master's in Sociology at the University of Chicago.

Willie Jean Hughes, '49, is now Mrs. Richard Nickles and is teaching in Piedmont High while her husband finishes school at the University of California, in engineering.

Leone Hinrich, '49, joined the ranks this August. She married Sacramento State senior, Don Dutra, and is teaching her second year at Pacific Elementary.

Melba Ledbetter, '49, is now Mrs. William Moser. Melba taught school at Bates Joint Union in Courtland last year, but gave up teaching for her new career in homemaking.

Marion Muldoon, '50, married a past State student, Roy Milne, who has since reported for active duty with the Navy.

Gilbert De la Rocha, '50, took the big step this summer and married Etas Armentia from San Francisco. He is teaching a sixth and seventh grade class at Franklin this year.

Byron Drupiewski, '50, married Phyllis Perry, '50, during the summer.

Basketball star Pete Peletta, '50, married Virginia Johnson and is now teaching P. E. at Lincoln High School.

GRADS AT WORK

Another important thing that the Alumni of Sacramento State are faced with is employment. Here is some news about grads and their jobs.

Lois Briggs, '49, a member of the Alumni Executive Council, is teaching her second year at Del Paso Heights. Margaret Brown, '49, traveled back to New England this summer to spend her vacation before returning to teach her second year in Auburn. Dorthy Carmel, '50, has her own department in P.E. at Escalon High School, swimming pool and all!

Irene Clark, '50, is teaching her second year at Carmichael. She and her husband, Bill, and their daughter took a trip to the midwest this summer. Barbara Douarin, '49, went to Oregon this summer, where she was waterfront director at the Girl Scout Camp-out in Portland. Lane Ernst, '50, is teaching history and coaching football this year at Yuba High School.

Alice Freeman, Betty Strong, and Donna Stephens, all of '50, are roommates this year. Alice and Donna are teaching at Robla and Betty is teaching at Bates Joint Union in Courtland. Charles Gardner, '49, is teaching his second year at Lincoln. George Gardner, '49, is teaching at Grant High School. Edith Hanson, '50, is teaching physical education at Folsom High, and Noreen Herbert is teaching her second year at Pacific Elementary. Also teaching at Folsom is Don McDonald, '49.

David Lindberg, '50, the treasurer of the Alumni Association, is working for the Department of Finance and Ray Long, '49, is working at the State Personnel Department. Star basketball player, Ralph Maloof, '50, is a salesman for Jewel Tea Co. June Rodoni, '49, is teaching high school at San Juan.

Alumni president Dave Morse, '49, is teaching his second year in Galt. He is teaching biology and coaching in P.E. John Patterson, '50, is teaching a 6th grade and boys P.E. at Orangevale. John won his first football game, incidentally. Ed Perry, '50, is teaching P.E. at Walnut Grove Elementary this year. Marino Pierucci, '50, is teaching a 7th grade class at West Acres in Yolo County and Fred Roche, '50, is back in Phoenix, Arizona, this year.

Janet Saunders, '50, student body vice-president last year, teaches P.E. at Woodland High and really likes her work. She is teaching charm and personality this month, which shouldn't be hard for Janet.

Heidi Schmidt, '49, is teaching her second year at McClatchy. Pete Schur, '49, is a teaching principal at the Altal Vista School in Auburn. Archie Yelle, '50, is teaching at West Sacramento Elementary this year, and Mary Davis, '50, is teaching her first year at Arcade.

STILL IN SCHOOL

Other grads still in school include: Jack Heron, '50, back working on his general secondary; George Kondos, '50, working on his teaching credential, also his tennis-playing friend, Harry Lambros, '50, is working on his teaching credential. Basketball center, Dick Gwinn, '50, is also working on his general secondary this year at Sac-State. Sid Pardee, '50, is doing graduate work at the state college and Robert Briggs, '50, is working on his masters' degree at Sac-State.

CON-GRAD-ULATIONS

Everett and Kay Campbell are the prowd parents of a boy. They named him Scott Melvin. Everett is doing well as a Burroughs salesman.

Well, members of the Alumni, that's just about "30" for this issue. I hope this information has been of interest to you. If you have any information concerning yourself or any other Alumni, send it to the Placement Office, Sacramento State College. I will be only too glad to hear from you and put the information in this column in the next Alumni issue.

NEWMAN CLUB ACTIVE AS EVER

Next Monday evening, the Sacramento College Newman Club will have as a guest speaker, Mr. George Artz, a prominent Sacramento attorney, who will speak on the topic of "Korea." Mr. Artz, who was a major in the army, is well qualified to speak on this subject as he was a political analyst for the U. S. Army in the Republic of Korea in 1945 and 1946. Artz helped to set up an indoctrination program for the natives to show how U. S. democracy works.

He studied law at the University of Santa Clara and also studied Japanese at the University of Chicago. All students are invited to attend the meeting which will be held in the Newman Hall in the basement of the Cathedral at 11th and K Streets at 8:00 p.m.

A Halloween party is scheduled by the Newman Club for Monday evening, October 30. It will be held in the Newman Hall at the Cathedral and will feature a variety show, refreshments, and dancing. Erlene Hampton and Pat Carew are in charge of the program; Jean Del Moro and Dick Germoles are in charge of refreshments; Polo Aguilar, door; and Jim Walsh, publicity.

A candlelight initiation of new members, followed by a reception will take place Sunday, November 5th, in the auditorium of the Holy Angels School, from 5 until 8 p.m. Patt Carmody is the chairman for the reception and Lou Ramos and the membership committee is in charge of the initiation.

At the regular meeting of the club, Monday, November 6th, parents' night will be observed, featuring a sample program, discussion, and a short variety show.

Other events in the future include a campus speaker, communion breakfast, and plans for a formal dance to be held in the Elk's Temple.

Fashion Fling

By Andre

With the start of school I thought a general view of fall fashions for the coed would be an appropriate way to begin this dissertation.

This fall, everyone seems 'plaid conscious,' and who wouldn't be, with the wonderful skirts, shirts, suits, and coats which are being made in tartan plaids. Half the fun of having plaid clothes is to know the history of the particular clan, whose plaid you are wearing. These skirts are being made in many different styles. Some in perma-pleats others with box pleats, some with gores, and too, there are those made with straight lines. Big plaids, little plaids, any way you want them, there is sure to be your style which will suit your needs.

The sweater accent this fall is still on the ever popular cashmere. This fall they are coming out in many new styles and colors. You can find them with stripes, collars, tucks, or with buttons and tucks; actually, any way you like them — they have them. A new sweater out is the lambs-wool. It is very hard to tell from a cashmere, they look and feel the same, and are less expensive. The V-neck sweater of zepher wool combined with a starched cotton dickey, is a very good combination to finish-off any skirt.

In the something new has been added department, there are the cotton-wool shirts with peter-pan button-down collars, and the cotton 'sweet shirt', which is similar to wool jersey except for the fact that it is made of cotton. They come in all colors, some with cotton ribbing on the edges, and a few made almost like a fellow's tee-shirt. They are a very good substitute for sweaters.

With the coming of fall, grey flannel steps into the lime-light. This year not only in suits and skirts, but also, in some very new and exciting jumpers. Many of these are made along the same lines as a tuxedo, and, by the way, are called 'tuxedo jumpers'. Some are trimmed in braid, others in velvet.

On the whole, they are quite plain, the waist being the distinctive mark and it is the part that resembles the 'Tux.' These combined with a cotton skirt make a combination hard to beat for smartness. Some of these shirts have studs, another borrowed idea.

Some of the suits are made with the 'always good' tailored jacket and straight skirt, however, this year as often as not you will find a touch of velvet for trimming. As the Scots would say, "Verrrrrry nice!"

Thank heaven for wool jersey. If there is anything more serviceable as well as being very smart looking, I don't know what it is. There is an increasing number of smart looking shirts, skirts and dresses out of wool-jersey this year. A few good looking numbers I have noticed were a Middy-dress in navy with a touch of white and an all round pleated skirt, also a sleeved jumper in nubby worsted jersey, and a little dressier number, a sack-dress of worsted jersey pulled in with a self rope.

Campus Y Elects New Fall Officers

Last week at a meeting held by the Campus Y, Betty Kovach was unanimously voted president of the group. George Glavas, former president, was drafted. Art Whitfield was elected vice-president.

At this week's meeting, members of the International Club participated in a panel discussion, at which Ernie Lehr was moderator. The countries represented in the discussion were: Iran, Germany, Italy, Spain, and the Philippines, and Chile. The International Club will also help the Campus Y put out publicity for the U. N. Assembly, October 24.

Members of the Campus Y planning to attend Camp Campbell, student YMCA-YWCA area conference are: Dick Biggs, Betty Kovach, Dick Palthe, Art Whitfield, Alice Anderson, Lora Cate, Ruth Anne Johnson, John Schafer, and Ann Morrison. Betty Kovach will represent the YWCA as a voting member and Dick Biggs will represent the YMCA.

The next meeting will be October 23 at the YWCA (17th and L) at 7:30 p.m. Movies on the United Nations will be shown. Worship, recreation, and refreshments will be included in the evening's events.

SADLER'S WELLS BALLET COMPANY TO PRESENT VARIED PROGRAM

The world famous Sadler's Wells Ballet Company, in its first nationwide toure, will present two performances in the Memorial Auditorium November 13th and 14th. Sadler's Wells Ballet is under the auspices of the Covent Garden Opera Trust in association with the Arts Council of Great Britain and the British Council.

The Sadler's Wells Ballet was organized 21 years ago by Ninette de Valois, then a young dancer who had performed with Diaghilev's great Russian company. Miss de Valois' group started in the small Sadler's Wells theater, from which the company took its name. Her policy included the operation of a ballet school in conjunction with the company, where dancers, after years of meticulous training, have developed the perfection for which the Sadler's Wells is renowned. Miss de Valois not only continues to direct the company, but also shares the choreographic honors with Frederick Ashton. She has been decorated Commander of the British Empire, and recently received the Legion of Honor from the Republic of France.

Last season, the celebrated English company not only set theater attendance records wherever it played, but by its innovating full-length, evening-long productions and impeccable dancing, also fostered an unprecedented interest in ballet. The great enthusiasm shown by audiences in the nine cities which viewed the Sadler's Wells Ballet last year led the sponsors of the company to extend the current tour to 29 cities from coast to coast.

This season's engagement began on September 10th in the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City. Back again are Margot Fonteyn, Robert Helpmann, Moira Shearer (of 'Red Shoes' fame), Pamela May, Beryl Grey, Violetta Elvin, Alexis Rassine, Michael Somes, and John Hart, who head the company of 65 dancers. The symphony orchestra is under the musical direction of Robert Irving, who will share the podium with John Hollingsworth.

The program for the first night in Sacramento, November 13th, will be a varied one composed of Rake's Progress, Facade, Les Patineurs, and the Rose Adagio. The second evening will present the full-length version of The Swan Lake (four acts) for the first time on the Pacific Coast.

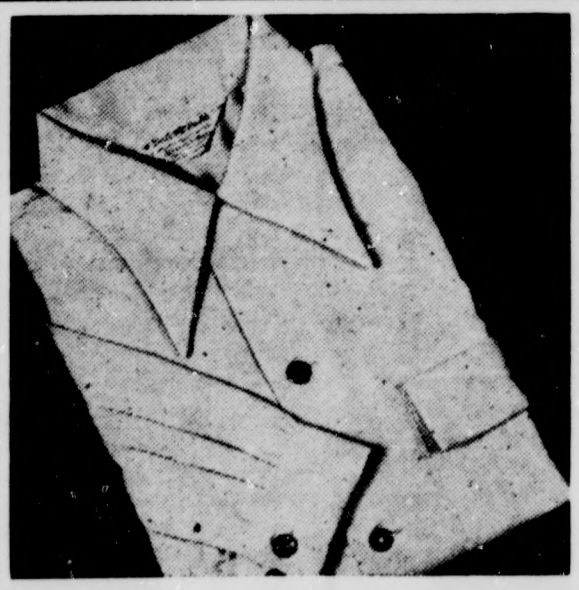

This unusual attraction will be presented in Sacramento by the Sacramento Saturday Club. Both performances will begin at 8:30 p.m.

SPORTS

Athlete's Footnotes

By Bill Brennan

Contrary to popular demand, we are back hammering at the keys. We react conversely to the old adage about stick and stone, and thank God for the words flowing about the campus would certainly injure feelings more sensitive than ours.

Well, baseball's titanic is over with the usual results. Although the Phillies surprised with the closeness of the battles, the outcome was only surprising in the number of games it took the Yanks to dispose of them. But, the Yanks proved themselves a money ball club in the closing games of the season and even more so in the series. Granted, the Phils deserved to win one game, it is silly to think that it would have changed the eventual outcome.

In a series replete with low scoring, we think it is assinine to say the least, to try to single out any man as the traditional goat of the series. Inasmuch as there were no mental boners which resulted in the Yankee win, why try to make Sisler of the Phillies the goat merely for inability to hit? In the total roster of the games there were only four or five hitters better than .300. Both of the fielding lapses were committed by the winning Yankees in the persons of Bill Johnson and Gene Woodling.

While on the diamond sport and we admit a trifle late, we would like to put our two cents worth in on the present Solon deals which finds us minus two journeymen pitchers for which we received a veteran left hander with the 'savvy' but a doubtful starter next season and a good receiver, supposedly on the downgrade. Jo Jo White, Solon business manager, feels he needs three catchers. If so, it should be with the idea that one be a young catcher who could gain valuable experience.

The populace undoubtedly wants to see several young players and the idea of carrying three catchers is absurd with the three now on the roster, namely: Raimondi, Steiner and the newcomer, Lakeman.

Sacramento again has a fairly representative bunch of athletes performing throughout major California elevens. Jerry Perich, Tiger Orr and Doc Cuffe are with the San Jose State Spartans, Pete Mering, Don Edmunson and Johnny Pappa with the Golden Bears at California, Leon King at Stanford and Del Rasmussen at Santa Clara. This would be the makings of a pretty fair team, if we had one.

No doubt many football fans on campus were glad to hear of Notre Dame's defeat after a streak of thirty-nine games without a defeat. It's a wonder that they could compile such an outstanding record when each and every team which faces the fightin' Irish are up for the game. That is, the Notre Dame game is their big game and they point for a win over the perennial national champion to enhance their record. Notre Dame, admittedly loaded with material each year, has a hard time getting the players 'fired up' for each and every game, while on the other hand, the opposition is always striving for an upset.

Although football is ten times less predictable than baseball, we can compare Notre Dame to the New York Yankees, who, year after year, dominate their respective sports. No doubt there is a certain amount of truth to the tradition of both teams being responsible for their outstanding records. Although they do put out good money, the Yankees are not consistently the highest salaried club in recent years.

Lettermen Select Vernatchi Prexy

George Vernatchi, star center fielder for Hornet nines for the past two years, was elected president at the first meeting of the fall semester of the Green and Gold Lettermen Club of Sacramento State College. Getting together for a spaghetti feed at the home of Coach Warren Conrad last Tuesday evening, the election of officers topped all business. Other officers elected were Regis Hurley, vice-president; Bob Rodness, sec-treas.; and Bob Greene, Sgt. of Arms.

The club voted to meet regularly once a month for a dinner meeting. Dr. McCormick, Athletic Director for Sacramento State College spoke briefly concerning the need of a strong lettermen's club at the college and told of his delight at the fine attendance at the meeting. Aubrey Bates, now Track Coach, was introduced to the club. Next meeting will be November 14, Tuesday night at the home of George Vernatchi.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Plans are well under way for the joint sports day with Junior College Women's Athletics Association on November 4. Those schools invited who will furnish the most competition are Chico State, Modesto Junior College, University of Nevada, Sacramento Junior College, and Sacramento State. Those playing on State's team are Mavis Wright, Rena Barsanti, Helen Daseler, Alice Lemus, Dolores Birchler, Vivienne Strangio, Charlene Cook, Jean Farley and Pat Bowles, player-coach.

Dr. Kaupas has been much in demand as a guest speaker because of his familiarity with the European and World situation. Recently he delivered three lectures: one on "Soviet Strategy for World War III" to the Officers Staff at the Fairfield Air Base; the second on "Korea and Europe" to the Vacaville Rotary; and the third on "International Relations"

Sports Portraits

Graduate student James 'Jimmy' Murray, is the tall serious-minded assistant coach in Track and Foot-

Jimmy was outstanding as a ball at Sacramento High School. track man while attending Occidental College in Los Angeles. Skimming the 120 yd. high hurdles in the excellent time of 14.6 seconds, he topped all the hurdlers in the Southern California Conference of Colleges, helping to bring Occidental College the Conference Championship.

High school laurels included the State of Colorado high hurdles championship. Finishing his education under the Veterans Educational Program, James is now studying for his General Secondary Credential in the field of Physical Education, Health and Recreation.

His personality indicates the serious and careful approach Jimmy gives to a track coach's problems. Yet, he sadly relates, you can work and work with a track team and then get beat in a conference championship meet by one-third of a point! This incredible margin of defeat left our budding coach with tears of frustration at the conclusion of the meet.

Although Coaching and Physical Education work is not the easiest profession in the world, James 'Jimmy' Murray looks forward to the day he can be head coach of a high school or college track team.

It is this reporter's opinion that he will be successful in the coaching field, having the "triple threat" teaching assets of patience, perserverance and perception. Good luck, Jimmy!

Schwall, Hardiman SPEAR Selections

Under the deft organizing hand of Dr. H. J. McCormick, Chairman of Physical Education, Health and Recreation, the first activated club of Sacramento State College, the SPEARS (Sacramento Physical Education and Recreation Society) was reactivated and rejuvenated upon its initial meeting last Tuesday.

Election of officers found Irv Schwall elected as Senior President and Ed Hardiman as Junior President (president-elect). Other officers include, Helen Daseler, Secretary, Dick Pierilli, Treasurer and Mavis Wright, Rene Barsanti and Jean Farley as committee chairmen.

Thirty-five P. E. majors attended the meeting. The primary aims of the club are: 1. Association and advancement of the C.A.H.P.E.R. (California Association of Physical Recreation and Recreation); 2. Realization of professional teaching goals and standards by students and graduate students in their field; 3. The fuller realization of the "social values" through Physical Education; 4. Creation of social functions through club activities.

Nightly Workouts Hornet Routine

Cage Coach Warren Conrad reports the Hornet basketball squad rounding into form by nightly workouts in the junior college gym. The players are sharpening their shooting eyes and getting their legs in shape while developing their wind.

The roster lists the following players: G. Troedson, Dave Campbell, H. Harris, Carl Youngstrom, of last year's fine squad, Del Bandy of the Stingers last year, Frank Perez of the Stingers, Neil Fearn, Jack Sarvis from last year's Hornets, as are Regis Hurley and Irv Schwall, Dick Galvin of the Stingers, Al McFayden, from Grant Tech a couple of years ago, Bob Greene of the Stingers and Bob Weddle.
